A Message from Leadership:
The Braids of Hope Graduation Ceremony celebrated more than the completion of a training programme. It marked the transformation of women who committed themselves to learning, perseverance, and entrepreneurship. Over the past 15 weeks, participants developed technical braiding skills, confidence, and business knowledge that will help them create brighter futures for themselves and their families.

Speaker Highlights

- Ms. Andrea Benjamin, Chief Executive Officer: Compared the graduates' journey to the transformation of a butterfly, encouraging them to spread their wings with confidence and embrace every opportunity.

| Meet the Changemakers

- Ms. Tamar Hackette, Owner, Glammy Tammy Hair Stories: Shared practical advice on entrepreneurship, exceptional customer service, and building a loyal client base.

- Ms. Sacha Gill, Facilitator: Celebrated the growth, confidence, and determination demonstrated by the graduates throughout the programme.

Mr. Paul Chan A Sue, Chairman:
Encouraged graduates to continue learning, develop their businesses, and use their skills to become economically independent.

Programme Spotlight

Graduates were joined by their children, families, friends, community leaders, partners, and supporters, whose encouragement made the occasion even more meaningful. The ceremony reflected Food For The Poor (Guyana) Inc.'s ongoing commitment to empowering women through practical skills training and economic opportunity.

Ms. Valini Leitch: Reminded graduates that patience, perseverance, and continuous practice are the foundation of lasting success.

- The Braids of Hope story continues. Over the coming weeks, Food For The Poor (Guyana) Inc. will highlight graduate success stories, business milestones, and programme impact through continued community engagement and social media.
